Appomattox 4-H'ers Attend State 4-H Congress

Six Appomattox 4-H'ers are among the 1,000 or so teenagers attending State 4-H Congress on the Virginia Tech campus at Blacksburg this week. State 4-H Congress, an event held each summer, provides opportunities for senior 4-H members to compete in a variety of contest areas, to increase leadership ability and become acquainted with teenagers from across the state.

Attending the week long conference from Appomattox are: Donna Paulette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Paulette; Pam Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Moore; Mary Louise Parris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Parris, Jr.; Janet Hix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hix; Billie Brightwell, daughter of Mrs. Sadie Brightwell; and Paula Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Franklin.

Donna will be competing in a State Demonstration Contest in the Home Management area. She will represent East Central District 4-H'ers as the top winner for a District Contest held in April. Donna's presentation entitled "Emergency" deals with practical first aid knowledge for home application.

Pam is representing Appomattox and East Central District in the Demonstration Contest area called "Dog Care and Training." Pam's illustrated talk entitled "The Travelin' Dog" received a second place award in District Contests, and deals with the requirements for taking one's family dog along on a vacation trip.

Mary Louise and Paula are attending State Congress as leadership delegates. They will be participating in special programs to provide them with training which can be applied towards improving county 4-H programs.

Billie and Janet are delegates to State 4-H Congress based on their Achievement Record Books submitted earlier this year. Billie's record in Citizenship and Janet's in Leadership were judged among the top in the District. Billie and Janet are also 4-H All Star nominees from Appomattox and will be tapped into the Virginia Chapter of 4-H All Stars during a special assembly on Thursday.

tension Agent for Appomattox, is accompanying the delegates to Blacksburg.

Watch future issues of the Times-Virginian for stories from these 4-H'ers relating their own experiences at State 4-H Congress.
